

Children from The Cleveland Institute of Music will present a program at The Cleveland Museum of Art on Saturday, April 25 at 1:30 p.m. Participating will be children from the Dalcroze Eurhythmics Department and the Junior Orchestra of the Institute. The program has been arranged by Dorothy Price of The Cleveland Institute of Music.

The script entitled MIDSUMMER'S EVE is based on an Irish folk tale and was written by Elsa Findlay, Head of the Dalcroze Eurhythmics Department at the Institute. Donald Erb, also a member of the faculty composed the musical score for the program. It calls for tenor and soprano soloists and a trio of harp, flute and piano. The delightful story will be acted and danced by Miss Findlay's group of boys and girls.

The Junior Orchestra, conducted by Giorgio Ciompi, Head of the Violin Department at The Cleveland Institute of Music will present the OUVERTURE, MENUET and MARCHE from the SUITE FOR ORCHESTRA by Lully and Lecuona's ANDALUCIA SUITE which includes MALAGUENA, ANDALUCIA, GITANERIAS, CORDOBA, GUADALQUIVIR and ALHAMBRA.

This program for young people will be held in the auditorium of The Cleveland Museum of Art and is open free to the public.
